Blessings of God be yours...

Jesus The Lord
Our Saviour

“The LORD looks down from heaven, he sees all the sons of men; from where he sits enthroned he looks forth on all the inhabitants of the earth.” (Psalm 33:13-14)

My God! I praise You. Abba Father! I love You. I call You Father! My Abba, and lay prostrate at Your Feet. You who look into my heart! You who know me in and out! It is You whom I praise. To You belong all praise, glory and love!

My Father God! Several are the disappointments, evils, sorrows I face in my life.

I regret wondering over the reason why we human beings have turned so insolent. Father God! With all His love, humility, emptying of Self and by shedding His Blood, Your Holy and Only Begotten Son opened up the path to heaven for us!

People are unable to walk this path and even create hurdles to those walking along that path. They thus become victims of a great amount of sin.

Father God! Cast Your gaze on each one of us here. Forgive us our sins, and grant us also the grace to partake of Your eternal life.

Bless all those living in families. My husband/ my wife, my children, each and every one, my kith and kin, and all whom I know, O LORD, Stretch forth Your hands and bless them. Erase the sins and evils that lay stagnant in our hearts. Just as You promised life-giving Waters to the Samaritan woman, just as You showed her the way towards holiness from sinful ways, grant us also the Power of the Holy Spirit, to lead upright lives.

May we always walk in the Ways shown by Him and be filled with love, purity, peace and fullness in our hearts. Grant us the grace to stand as a family in Your Communion.

O Virgin Mother! Intercede for us. Protect us from the entry of any evil into our home, by sending Your angels.

Father God! We Thank You! Thank you for paying heed to my prayer!

“Pray and believe in the power of prayer.”

( Message of our Blessed Mother at Medjugorje, 25th May 2015)

During His short life on this earth, Our LORD Jesus spent much of His time in close communion with The Father in prayer. He spent His day time meeting the people, preaching about the Kingdom of God and healing them. But He was particularly careful about spending His night hours in prayer with His Father. Even at the beginning of His passion , He went to the garden on the mount of Olives and prayed, “Father, if you are willing, remove this cup from me; yet not my will but yours be done. ” (Luke 22:42) He also advised His disciples. “Get up and pray that you may not come into the time of trial.” ( Luke 22:46)

This is a much needed advice to us, in today’s society where we people are lost in the humdrum of every day living. Just as Our LORD told us, Our Blessed Mother appears time and again and requests prayer! Pray! Believe in the power of prayer! As soon as we rise in the morning from bed, let us seek the promptings of the Holy Spirit, and his guidance.

Let us begin our day’s duties by praying, “O Holy Spirit! Fill me and guide me today. Place me as a witness to Your Love and Mercy.” Before taking our meals during the day, let us spend a few moments in silence meditating upon God who dwells in our hearts. At the end of the day, let us some how spend a few moments for God, thanking Him. We shall think of all the good events and thank God. We shall pray that we may never ever get caught in evils of any form.

We shall consecrate our life and all the events that happened, to God saying, “Heavenly Farther! Deliver and save me that I may never get caught in the snares of the evil one! All praise and honour to You alone !” Let us place God before our eyes. Love and Peace will fill your life! I wish you joy.
